A WOMAN'S HONOR

Almost everywhere you look, you find that sweethearts will make their lovers wait a long time past their appointed time at the clock on the corner.

Little Lizzie Mouse did hurry a bit this time, because she thought she was being followed by a tall dark person.

Sure enough when the two lovers were "spooning" in the park, this terrible person, the black villian cat, comes along and captures Rudolph's little Lizzie, Rudolph is left a prisoner in a box.

The villian in his little car has engine trouble at the top of the hill, he then takes his fair prisoner to the old cabin in the woods for the crooked business.

Handsome Rudy escapes and follows close after the villian. His fastest mode of travel is a flying rabbit. When directly above the cabin Rudy does a Steve Brody and lands right in the cabin via the roof. After a hot battle Rudy makes mince meat of the villian. He carries his fair baby out to declare his love right in front of the marines who had come to the rescue. The moral is "The Man Who Sticks Rarely Gets Stuck".
